THE COMSTOCK FAMILY IN AMERICA

Ten Generations of the Descendants of William Comstock
of Wethersfield, Connecticut, 1636

The purpose of these pages is to add several hundred names to history of the Comstock Family as published by Gen. Cyrus Ballou Comstock in 1907. Full credit is due him for the facts here given of the earlier generations. The facts regarding the descendants of Solomon Comstock 1766-1845 of Hartwick, N. Y. are our contribution to the family history.

DESCENDANTS OF
WETHERSFIELD, CONNECTICUT, 1636

~~1636-1641~~

In Devonshire, England there is a little village called Culmstock with a few hundred inhabitants on stream Culm. It is called Colmstocke in Doomesday Book in time of William the Conqueror.

History of Taunton (ten miles from Culmstock) gives among the early priors of Taunton, Richard de Colmstocke, elected 1325, Ralph de Colmstocke elected 1331, resigned 1338.

In 1895, an examination of births in London, England, and Wales showed scarcely one birth per year. The name has therefore nearly died out in England. A story is in existence in Frankfort, Germany of pedigrees of nine generations of Komstohks prior to Chas. von Komstohk, a baron of the Roman Empire who escaped to England in 1541, who became implicated with other noblemen of Austria and Silesia in the Von Benedict treason. This story was accepted by Dr. John Lee Comstock of Hartford, Connecticut in 1865, but C. B. Comstock says that Dr. Comstock was probably misinformed.

Earliest record of any Comstock in this country was November 24, 1639, when John Russell gives to his wife, Jane, in his will, "the remainder of his time to be served by John Comstock." Apprenticeship was common in those days.

The Weatherford record gives 2 month, 28th day, 1641: "the lands of William Comstock which he purchased of Richard Milles lying in Wethersford on Connecticut River." Beginning in 1635 and 1636 there was considerable emigration from Watertown, Massachusetts and its vicinity to Wethersfield, Windsor, and Hartford, Connecticut, and William Comstock may have been among the emigrants.

1. William Comstock m. Elizabeth_____. Miss Caulkins (History of New London) says that he lived to old age on Post Hill near north corner of Williams and Vauxhall Streets, New London, Connecticut. Stiles (History of Wethersfield) says we may be pretty sure that William Comstock was among the twenty-six from Wethersfield, Connecticut, in the expedition commanded by Capt. John Mason which captured the Pequot Fort at Mystic, Connecticut, 26 May, 1637, killing about five hundred Indians.

The Wethersfield record gives "The 2nd month and 28th day, 1641, the lands of William Comstock which he purchased of Richard Milles . . . on Connecticut River . . . one piece whereupon a barn with two cellars and other buildings standeth as it is now fenced . . . two acres or more . . . Also, "The 12th month 10th day 1743, upon . . . the land bought by Andrew Langdon of William Comstock. One piece whereon a house standeth on three acres more or less"

Richard Mylls was plaintiff against William and John Sadler, defendants, in an action for slander, 1 August, 1644, before the Court of Elections, Hartford, to the damage of 200 pounds.

William Comstock, 21 June 1647, was granted a lot [at Pequot by the town]; also, 10 acres of upland; also 10 acres on east side of River [Thames]. On 2nd December 1651, he was granted by the town 20 acres at Nahantic [Niantic] 8 acres of upland; 100 acres upland laid out to Mr. Tinker; 100 acres upon a high hill up Mohegan bounded by land laid out to Mr. Picket.

William Comstock at New London town meeting voted (10 November 1650) to cooperate with John Winthrop in erecting a corn mill. In July, 1651, with others he "wrought" on mill dam. The dam and mill are still in use.

Old goodman Comstock was chosen Sexton to order youth in the meeting etc. 25th February, 1662. The title "old goodman" would indicate a birth as early as 1590. The 25th January 1659, William Comstock of New London deeds 8 acres in New London to Will Houge, carpenter, with consent of Elizabeth.

That William had children John and Daniel is shown by deed of 4 December, 1694 in which William Comstock of Lyme [son of John of Lyme] and Daniel Comstock of New London, [son of Daniel of New London] convey "land at Nyantik which said land was given to our grandfather William Comstock, deceased, by the town of New London" 20 acres. The same 20 acres were granted by New London to William Comstock 21 June, 1647. Savage [Genealogical History of New England] says John Comstock who was at Weymouth, Massachusetts in 1639, sat down at Saybrook, east port, now Lyme.

Mr. S. C. Newman states that Daniel Comstock moved from Providence to New London. Daniel Comstock of Providence, 19 February, 1645, accepts from Providence a free grant of 25 acres of land. The 24 June, 1648, Daniel Comstock, with other young men, were arrested in Providence for giving a false Indian alarm. In 1660, Daniel Comstock was paid twenty shillings by New London for killing a wolf towards Mogeagan. The fact that Samuel and Daniel had adjoining lots in Providence, that Samuel named a son Daniel and that Daniel named a son Samuel, that William and a Samuel were both in the jurisdiction of Hartford in 1648; that the Samuel who was in the Sybond expedition in 1653, was in that year both at New London and Rhode Island; give rise to the presumption that Samuel of Providence was the son of William of New London.

Christopher Comstock of Fairfield [and later of Norwalk, Conn.] made an affidavit about visiting good wife Knapp, charged with being a witch at New Haven, 29 May, 1654. He named three of his children Elizabeth, Daniel, Samuel, these being the names of the wife and two sons of William. These facts suggest that Christopher was a son of William. We therefore have as children of William:

6. Elizabeth m. Edward Shipton of Saybrook, January, 1651, d. July 1659.

5. Christopher² (1 William) m. October 1663, Hannah Platt who was baptized 6 October 1643. Her father was Richard of Milford, Connecticut. Christopher lived in Fairfield and Norwalk, Connecticut. His will dated Norwalk 22 December 1701; proved 4 January 1702-3 gives to wife Hannah; to son Moses when 21; to son Samuel; to daughter Hannah Comstock; to daughter Mercy Comstock; to grandson Daniel; wife and son Samuel executors. On 27 January, 1661 Christopher made affidavit about visiting good wife Knapp charged with witchcraft. She was executed. On 27 January 1661, Christopher then of Fairfield, Connecticut, bought land of Thomas Betts. On 19 September 1692 he was on a grand-jury for witches. Christopher Comstock of Norwalk was nominated for freedman 10 October 1667. Christopher, October 14, 1686, was deputy to the general court. 16 January 1699 he was one of a committee "to look out for and obtain a faithful minister" for Norwalk. Hannah (Comstock) Fenn, daughter of Christopher bought a Bible in 1632 dated 1727 for 2 pounds 15 shillings, which she says she "yearned in her youth." In 1740, she gave it to her brother, Moses, who gave it to his daughter, Hannah, who married Phineas Handford. She gave it to her granddaughter Hannah Handford who married William Richards. The book then passed into the hands of William Richards, Jr. and it now belongs to his daughter, Mrs. Charles Saylor. Hurman says Christopher brought with him from England a silver tankard with his coat of arms upon it. His great grandson, Major Samuel Comstock, gave it to the church at Wilton, Connecticut and it was melted up. Children of Christopher:

David Comstock a witness. The will gives to his wife Abigail the life use and improvement of my negro man, Caesar, my mulatto boy John and negro woman Bett. Abigail Brunsmade was born 1691, and died 16 November 1766. William C. Bryant in his "Letters of a Traveller" tell the following story of Moses. "He prided himself on the strict and literal fulfillment of work. On one occasion he had a law suit with one of his neighbors before a justice of the peace, in which he was cast and ordered to pay ten shillings damage, and a shilling as fees at court. He paid the ten shillings and asked the justice whether he would allow him to pay the remaining shilling when he next passed his door. The magistrate consented, but from that time old Comstock never went by his house. Whenever he had occasion to go to church or to any other place, the direct road to which led by the justice's door he was careful to take a lane which passed behind the dwelling at some distance from it. The shilling remained unpaid up to the day of his death and it was found in his last will that he had directed that his corpse should be carried by that lane to the place of interment.

His daughters, Sarah and Phebe, remained unmarried and carried on a fine farm. They had a slave, Onesimus, bought for 39 pounds 9 August 1773. Both being mounted, he used to ride after Miss Phoebe when she went into Norwalk. Phebe's will of 24 February 1810 gives her servant, Onesimus, to her niece Phebe Comstock, and the will of the latter of 14 November 1840, charges Darms Ferris with the care of Onesimus during life.

Town grants to Moses Comstock 14 March 1705-6 one and one half acres on Long Island.

Moses Comstock and his mother, Hannah 22 May 1707 deed to his brother, Samuel, part of his father, Christopher's, home lot, February 2, 1725-6 Moses was appointed guardian of his nephews, Samuel and James Olmstead.

96. Solomon⁶ (30 Abel⁵) (Salmon) b. 10 May 1766; d. 23 May 1845

Bow Hill, N. Y. He married 16 June 1788, Abigail Gorham b. 19 July 1770; d. 23 December 1842 at New Lisbon, Otsego County, N. Y. He moved to Hartwick about 1805.

Solomon Comstock, the grandfather and great-grandfather of many of the Sylvania Comstocks, was the father of one of the largest Comstock families on record. He had sixteen children of whom fourteen grew to maturity. His wife, Abigail Gorham, was the mother of all of these children. She was eighteen when married, nineteen when the first child was born and forty-seven when Giles, the youngest son, was born. Solomon was the son of the revolutionary soldier Abel and the descendants are entitled to be sons and daughters of the American Revolution. The records in Connecticut have Abel listed as "Abel Comstick" instead of Abel Comstock. This is plainly a clerical error.

Through Solomon's wife, Abigail Gorham, the descendants are entitled to the honors of Mayflower descendants from John Howland and his wife Elizabeth Tilly:

The line of descent is as follows:

Elizabeth Tilly	-	John Howland
[Both of whom were on the Mayflower]
John Gorham	-	Desire Howland
b. 1521	1643
Jabez Gorham	-	Hannah Sturgis
b. Aug. 22, 1692
Joseph Gorham	-	Deborah Barlow
	Jan. 13, 1725
John Gorham	-	Abigail Wakeman
Abigail Gorham	-	Solomon Comstock
b. July 10, 1770	June 6, 1788	b. May 10, 1766
d. 1842		d. 1845

From Desire Howland who was on the Mayflower with her parents Abigail Gorham was but four generations removed.

Solomon Comstock and his wife were highly respected citizens of Otsego County, New York in the early pioneer days. They resided near New Lisbon.

153. Giles⁷ [96 Solomon⁶] b. August 5, 1817 in Otsego County, New York near Cooperstown. Cooperstown is the County-seat, and the records concerning his father's family are found there. His father, Solomon Comstock, was a prominent man in the community. The records show that about 1834 several brothers of Giles Comstock sold their farms and left for western Ohio, settling at or near Sylvania. Giles went with them as a young man seventeen years of age. He secured work in the construction of a railroad which was then known as the Toledo and Adrian Accomodation and in the place of steam power the cars were hauled by horse power.

On the third day of July 1843 he married, at the Sylvania M. E. Church, Rev. Uritia, officiating, Eletca E. Vrooman, the daughter of John A. Vrooman, and they began a truly pioneer life in Whiteford, Monroe County, Michigan, on land purchased directly from the government. This land, situated three miles northwest of Sylvania, was the homestead of the family for over sixty years, and upon it their seven children were born and grew to manhood and womanhood. Giles Comstock died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. J. Richie, July 9, 1898. For several years previous to this time he lived with his son, Dr. Oliver G. Comstock at Air Line Junction which forms a part of Toledo. During the last years of his life, he suffered from a paralytic stroke which affected his organs of speech. His wife, Electa Elizabeth Vrooman, was born June 17, 1826 and died July 13, 1891.
